

President Asks Germany to Demand That Her Schools Be Open to All Races of Humanity

DEFINITE PARAGRAPH ARE ASKED IN NO THREATS MADE

Bryan Pleads His Case Before American People And Asks for a Verdict

Attacking Wilson's Note as Exemplification of Bloody System of Force, He Characterizes Himself as Champion of Persuasion.

TO ISSUE APPEAL TODAY TO GERMAN-AMERICANS

Asks No Mercy if Public Opinion Is Against Him for Quitting His Job During Time of International Stress.

Washington, June 10.—William Jennings Bryan, in an appeal addressed "To the American People," tonight asks them to hear him before they pass sentence on his laying down the portfolio of secretary of state in the midst of international stress.

Confident that the public will credit him with honorable intentions, Mr. Bryan frankly says that good intentions are not enough, and that if the public verdict is against him, he will accept it as a "humble follower" of the "old system" of diplomatic standards, precedents for which "are written in characters of blood upon almost every page of human history."

Interpreting the American note to Germany on submarine warfare, which he refused to sign, as conforming to the "old system" of diplomatic standards, precedents for which "are written in characters of blood upon almost every page of human history," and characterizing himself as a champion of the new system—persuasion instead of force—and as "a humble follower of the Prince of Peace," the former secretary of state pleads for the United States to lead the world "out of the black night of war into the light of that day when swords shall be beaten into plowshares."

Message to German-Americans.
Tomorrow Mr. Bryan will issue another statement, an appeal, he says, to "German-Americans." The nature of this appeal he would not discuss. But with the issuance of the third statement since his resignation the former secretary says he will be ready to rest his case.

"Of course I shall always be ready to talk when the occasion arises and I think it necessary," Mr. Bryan declared. The statement tonight, entitled by the former secretary as "The real issue is as follows—"

"To the American People: You now have before you the text of the note to Germany—the note which it would have been my official duty to sign had I remained secretary of state. I ask you to judge upon my decision to resign rather than to share responsibility for it. I am sure you will credit me with honorable motives, but that is not enough. Good intentions could not atone for a mistake at such a time, on such a subject and in such circumstances. If your verdict is against me, I ask no mercy. I desire none if I acted unwisely. A man in public life must act according to his conscience, but he must be prepared to accept without complaint any condemnation which his own errors may bring upon him; he must be willing to bear any deserved punishment from the people for execution. But hear me before you pass sentence.

Differ as to Means.
The president and I agree in purpose; we desire a peaceful solution of the dispute which has arisen between us. I differ only as to the means to be employed. If your verdict is against me, I ask no mercy. I desire none if I acted unwisely. A man in public life must act according to his conscience, but he must be prepared to accept without complaint any condemnation which his own errors may bring upon him; he must be willing to bear any deserved punishment from the people for execution. But hear me before you pass sentence.

GERMANS WITHDRAW TROOPS FROM EAST TO AVOID FRENCH

Many Teuton Troops Arrive in Belgium and Start Battle Near Ypres, Say Dutch Reports.

RUSSIANS ARE AGAIN RETURNING TO ATTACK

Czar's Forces in Baltic Region and Galicia Are Reinforced—Germans on Dvina Forced to Retreat.

London, June 10.—Russian reinforcements have arrived in the Baltic provinces and in Galicia, and it has become their turn to attack.

According to the German official report received tonight, part of the German force on the Dvina river in the Baltic provinces, threatened by an encircling movement, were obliged to withdraw, although in the region of Shavil and on the Niemen they claim to be making progress, despite a stubborn Russian resistance.

More important in the matter of military observers here, however, is the apparent change that is taking place in the Galician battle. Here again, according to the German account, the Russians are advancing the front and southeast of Lemberg, and also are attacking German lines near the southeast of Przemyel.

In eastern Galicia and Bukovina, however, the Russians are falling back between the Pruth and Dniester rivers with the intention, it is believed here, of making the Dniester their line of defense from the Rumanian frontier to the southeast of Przemyel.

RUSSIA HAS HOPES OF HOLDING LEMBERG.

They have very strong positions along this line, and military experts say that if they can drive back the Germans who crossed the river near Zarnawa, Lemberg will remain in their hands, and they will be in a position to attack the Austrians and Germans as soon as the Austrians and Germans begin to withdraw troops for their eastern and southern campaigns.

It is possible that this withdrawal commenced some days ago, for Dutch correspondents report the arrival of large numbers of troops in Belgium and the Netherlands, and the battle south of Ypres. The official reports, however, mention no such movements.

Along most of the French front the French generally are said to be on the offensive, but as to the French claims of Berlin and Paris are contradictory.

Heavy fighting continues on the Italian front, particularly along the Alpine front, where the Italians claim to have taken Monfalcone, an important town near the coast.

German submarines continue their activity. Today they accounted for two British torpedo boats, while the German submarine, the Eber, is credited to the under-water boats. Forty-one members of the crews of the torpedo boats were rescued. As these vessels always carry crews of 25 men, it is believed that the loss of life in their sinking will be approximately 100.

GERMAN RETREAT ANNOUNCED IN BERLIN.

Berlin, June 10.—(Via London.)—The German official announcement today states that the German forces have evacuated the Baltic provinces of Russia and have retreated to the Niemen river, southeast of Shavil has withdrawn to the south, towards the Baisgola-Grodna theater.

The statement follows:
"In the region of South and north of Hursus we took possession of several enemy trenches, and we have taken a number of machine guns and other trophies."

"North of Les Meaux a French position was taken by storm and maintained. A number of machine guns and other trophies were taken into our hands."

"The enemy brought forward reinforcements from the west, and in the region of the forest of the L'etree a section of our outer trenches remained in the hands of the enemy."

"Southeast of Shavil the Russians offered strong resistance yesterday to our advance. Minor progress was made. The booty taken was considerable. In the days in this district amounts to 2,250 prisoners and a number of trophies."

"On account of the menace our wing performed a tactical movement. On the south of the Niemen we took 2,000 prisoners while the Germans were driven back. We also captured a number of machine guns and other trophies. The situation of the front remains unchanged."

MACHINE GUN COMPANY ORGANIZED IN MACON.

Macon, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—The first machine gun company in Georgia has been organized here, and the south will be organized here tomorrow.

This will be the thirteenth company of the Georgia Georgia regiment, and is composed of fifty men. The equipment will be furnished by the government, and will be furnished by the government.

Major Boyce E. Miller will be in command.

Message in Friendly Terms Insists That American Lives And Ships Be Safeguarded

Denies Lusitania Was Armed, But Declares Such Points Irrelevant to Question of Legality of Methods Used in Sinking Vessel—Offers to Consider, However, Any Convincing Evidence Germany May Offer on This Matter.

Washington, June 10.—The United States in its latest note to Germany, made public tonight, formally asks the imperial government for assurances that measures hereafter will be adopted to safeguard "American lives and American ships" on the high seas. The alternative in case of refusal is not stated.

It was this note to which William Jennings Bryan refused to attach his signature, resigning instead his portfolio of state, thereby precipitating a dramatic cabinet crisis. Robert Lansing, secretary of state ad interim, signed the communication, which went forth with the approval of President Wilson and his entire cabinet.

Friendly terms characterize the document, which renews representations made in the American note of May 15, after the Lusitania was torpedoed and sunk. The German government, it is declared, "must have been misinformed" when it assumed that the Lusitania carried guns, as official information is at hand to corroborate the original contention of the Washington government—that the Lusitania was an unarmed passenger ship which, since it did not resist capture, could not be sunk without transferring passengers and crew to a place of safety.

On Principle of Humanity And Law America Stands

The communication informs Germany that it is "on the principle of humanity, as well as upon the law founded upon this principle, that the United States must stand." Opportunity is given to Germany to submit any evidence that American officials did not execute their tasks thoroughly in inspecting the Lusitania before she sailed, but the cardinal fact—that the liner was given no warning and made no resistance and was primarily a passenger ship—the American government declares, throws into the background any "special circumstances of detail," and lifts the case "out of the class of ordinary subjects of diplomatic discussion or of international controversy."

The issuance of another statement by former Secretary Bryan coincident with the publication of the note tonight added to the surprise in official quarters at the character of Mr. Bryan's argument. High officials said the note employed the very process—persuasion—which Mr. Bryan advocated, and did not necessarily lead to war.

The text of the note follows:

STALH'S ARREST SEES GIVE CRISIS

Government Claims Man Who Says He Saw Guns on Lusitania Did Not Even Visit Vessel.

New York, June 10.—A federal grand jury investigation to determine whether there was a conspiracy "to defraud the United States" in connection with affidavits submitted by the German government to the state department to prove that there were guns aboard the steamship Lusitania, began here today.

It is specifically directed against Paul Koenig, also known as Stelmor, who, according to the federal service department is head of a secret service department maintained by the Hamburg-American Steamship line.

The first result of the investigation was the arrest today for perjury of Gustave Stahl, a German resident, who made one of the affidavits submitted by the German government and who is alleged to be closely associated with Koenig. The warrant on which he was arrested alleges that he committed perjury. He was taken into custody immediately upon the conclusion of his testimony and sent to the Tombs for lack of $10,000 bail.

Stahl, in his affidavit, made before a notary public, swore he visited the Lusitania on April 20, the day before she sailed, and saw four guns on her deck concealed by leather covers. The repetition of this story, when he was taken into custody, was a witness to Koenig's activities, was the basis of the perjury charge.

The statement by the statement by Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port, and by officials of the Cunard Line, that the Lusitania was unarmed, the government authorities said tonight that they had evidence by which they were convinced that Stahl was not a board the Lusitania on any day before the departure of the Lusitania for her fatal trip.

Stahl was located day before yesterday on April 20, the day before she sailed. Information which Stahl furnished, together with other evidence collected by the government, was used in the empanelling of the special grand jury which met today. It was estimated, however, that when called upon before the jury to repeat this information, Stahl was not so communicative. During the two days since he was brought back here he was interrogated by the government and was in consultation with Edward Sanford, who acted as attorney for the Hamburg-American line in the government's case against it charging violation of the neutrality law.

Questioned about the case tonight, Sanford said that he was acting for Koenig in the case and would get Stahl another lawyer.

Selected Southwest Loop for Dixie Highway Reported in Good Shape

Quintman, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—A report on the condition of the Dixie highway from Macon to Thomasville, prepared after a tour of inspection made on last Monday, is being mailed today to Clark Howell, of Atlanta, and W. T. Anderson, of Macon.

The inspection and reports are by Edward T. Clark, general secretary of the Brooks County Industrial club, and Joseph G. Gardner, secretary of the Thomasville Commercial association.

On the whole, the report is a magnificent boost for the western route of the Dixie highway, though it points out some places where, it is stated, attention to the highway is needed at once.

TWO NEGROES HANG IN QUITMAN FRIDAY

Quintman, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—For the first time in twenty-three years Brooks county will have a public execution in the county jail Friday.

Two negroes are to be hanged from the same scaffold. They are Jack Miller and Alfred Grogby, who were convicted of murder before Judge Thomas in the superior court at its last session.

The scaffold has been erected in the jail building and everything is in readiness for the execution. The execution will be between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock, after which the bodies probably have the execution before private, only the officers and clergy being present.

John Thomas, another negro who was sentenced to be hanged Friday, will not be executed at this time, pending the hearing of a motion for a new trial.

BODY OF CAMPBELL MANGLED IN FALL

The body of J. E. Campbell, 22 years old, was found, mangled by a fall of several hundred feet from the side of Stone Mountain, by a band of searchers Thursday morning. It is not known whether Campbell jumped from the cliff or fell off while on the top of the mountain. The coroner of DeKalb was called to hold an inquest.

Campbell, who had been ill from typhoid fever for several weeks, left his business section of the town about 11 o'clock Wednesday morning and was later seen walking at the foot of Stone Mountain. When he did not return within a few feet of the residence of A. G. Venable, where it had rolled after a clear fall of 300 feet.

He was the son of W. P. Campbell, a market man at Stone Mountain.

Dr. E. L. Harris, of Atlanta, will address the Atlanta Osteopathic society tonight when it meets in its monthly session at the Hotel Ansley. His subject will be "Diagnosis and treatment of nose and throat diseases with a special discussion of the use of the nasal spray."

Dr. Harris' lecture is expected to be full of new osteopathic ideas as he has recently completed a course at the A. T. Still Research institute, where the majority of research work is confined to experiments that prove convincingly osteopathic ideas as causes of diseases. Dr. E. L. Harris will preside.

Two Florida Counties Offer Dixie Highway Limerock Concrete Road

Quintman, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—A meeting on the Dixie highway was held yesterday at Lloyd, Fla., on the line of the suggested western Dixie highway route, being attended by two hundred or more people from Jefferson and Leon counties in Florida.

At the meeting was also held a joint session of the county commissioners of these two counties and definite steps were taken to build a concrete road from Tallahassee to Macon, following the line of the Seaboard Air Line railway.

In connection with owners of lime rock quarries in the road, the county commissioners agreed to build the highway with concrete road for ten years when the road is to be kept up by the county.

The county commissioners of Madison to Tallahassee, the road to be kept on the road will be kept on the road.

The limerock is to be furnished by the quarry people free and to be selected of the wisdom of the Dixie highway commissioners, as the part of the route above mentioned was regarded as one of the worst stretches of the western route of the Dixie highway.

The action taken was not influenced by any work from the Dixie highway committee, but was a spontaneous action of the people of Leon and Jefferson counties.
